Dear Parent/Carer

Medicines and medical products after Brexit

We are writing in relation to the above. Recent Government guidance suggests the process of importing medicine from the EU after a no-deal Brexit will take longer.

Due to this potential risk being highlighted, if your child is reliant on medication, it may be prudent to contact their GP or paediatrician to ensure they have contingency measures in place to supply these medications.

For specific advice on medicines, please refer to the NHS guidance:

Yours faithfully
